SECTION 6: ADMISSION ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Eligibility requirements vary by program level and type. All programs require an entry test with a minimum passing score of 50%.

Source: JSMU Admissions Page; Jaamiah.com JSMU University Profile

For MBBS at Sindh Medical College (SMC): Applicants must have completed FSc (Pre-Medical) or an equivalent qualification (IBCC-certified for A-Level students) with a minimum of 60% marks. The age requirement is between 17 and 25 years. A valid MDCAT score as per PMC regulations is mandatory. Sindh domicile and Permanent Residence Certificate (PRC) are required for public sector seats.

Source: MedicalStudy.pk JSMU Admission Guide; PMDC.org.pk — Sindh Medical College Profile 2025

For BDS at SIOHS: Eligibility is the same as MBBS — FSc Pre-Medical with minimum 60% marks, valid MDCAT score, age 17 to 25 years, Sindh domicile for public sector seats.

Source: JSMU SIOHS Admissions Page; MedicalStudy.pk JSMU Admission Guide

For Pharm-D, DPT, BS Nursing, BS Medical Technology, BS Public Health, and BS Occupational Therapy: Applicants must have FSc Pre-Medical or equivalent with a minimum of 60% marks. A minimum score of 50% in the JSMU Entry Test is required. For most BS programs, candidates must secure at least 50% in both FSc and the entry test to qualify for merit listing.

Source: JSMU Admissions Page; MeraAdmission.net JSMU Admission Guide 2025

For BBA and BBA (HCM): Applicants must have completed intermediate-level education (12 years of education). For MBA (HHCM) and EMBA: Applicants need 16 years of education with a relevant undergraduate degree.

Source: JSMU IHBM Admission Notice; JSMU Admissions Page

For graduate programs (Master's): A minimum of 16 years of education is required, with at least a second division in the annual system or a minimum CGPA of 2.5 in the semester system. A minimum of 50% in the entry test is required.

Source: Jaamiah.com JSMU University Profile — Selection Criteria for Graduate Programs

For MPhil and PhD: A relevant master's degree with minimum qualifying CGPA is required. Entry tests for each program are conducted by JSMU. Candidates are notified of test dates through the official JSMU website.

SECTION 7: ENTRY TESTS

Entry tests are mandatory for all programs at JSMU. No exemptions are granted. The type of entry test depends on the program.

Source: JSMU Admissions Page; JSMU Admission Policy — SOPs

For MBBS and BDS, the National MDCAT (Medical and Dental College Admission Test) is mandatory. In Sindh Province, IBA Sukkur administers the MDCAT on behalf of the Pakistan Medical Commission (PMC). The MDCAT is held annually, typically in September or October. The test comprises 200 MCQs over 150 minutes with no negative marking, covering Biology, Chemistry, Physics, English, and Logical Reasoning.

Source: MedicalStudy.pk JSMU Admission Guide; PMC MDCAT Regulations

The minimum MDCAT score for MBBS eligibility is 65% (130 out of 200) as per PMC regulations. The minimum MDCAT score for BDS eligibility is 55% (110 out of 200).

Source: PMC/PM&DC; Regulations; MBBS.com.pk MDCAT 2025 Guide

For Pharm-D, DPT, BS Nursing, BS Medical Technology, BS Public Health, and BS Occupational Therapy, JSMU administers its own internal JSMU Entry Test. A minimum of 50% marks in the entry test is required for admission eligibility in these programs.

For BBA, MBA, and EMBA programs at IHBM, JSMU conducts its own entry test assessing quantitative and verbal skills. A minimum of 50% marks is required.

Source: JSMU Admissions Page; Jaamiah.com JSMU University Profile

The merit formula for MBBS and BDS uses PMC's standard: SSC marks at 10%, HSSC marks at 40%, and MDCAT score at 50%. For BS programs using the JSMU internal test, merit is typically based on 50% FSc marks and 50% JSMU entry test score.
